Message from the Managing Director

Listening, Responding, Improving

Dear Colleagues,

It is my pleasure to welcome you to the second quarter edition of Inside EWSC for the 2026 financial year.

Our theme for this edition, “Listening, Responding, Improving,” captures an important part of our journey as a Company. As Eastern Water and Sanitation Company, our responsibility goes beyond supplying water and providing sanitation services. It is about understanding the needs of the communities we serve, responding to the challenges we encounter and continuously finding better ways of delivering on our mandate.

The past quarter has presented us with both opportunities and challenges. We have continued to work towards strengthening our water supply systems, advancing infrastructure development and improving the reliability and efficiency of our operations. At the same time, we have remained attentive to the concerns raised by our customers, recognising that their feedback provides valuable insight into where our efforts must be directed.

Our ongoing infrastructure investments and rehabilitation initiatives across Eastern Province are an important part of this effort. These interventions are aimed not only at addressing immediate service challenges, but also at building stronger and more resilient systems capable of meeting the growing needs of our communities. However, infrastructure alone is not enough. We must also continue strengthening our internal processes, embracing innovation, improving customer engagement and ensuring that our teams have the capacity and commitment required to deliver quality services.

As we move forward, I encourage every member of staff to embrace a culture of accountability, responsiveness and continuous improvement. Every interaction with a customer is an opportunity to demonstrate who we are as an organisation. Let us listen carefully, respond professionally and use every challenge as an opportunity to improve.

I wish to commend our staff across all ten districts for their continued dedication and resilience. I also extend our appreciation to our customers, Government, cooperating partners and other stakeholders whose support remains essential to our work.

Let us continue working together to strengthen EWSC and deliver water supply and sanitation services that our communities can depend on.

Thank you, and I wish you an enjoyable and informative read.

Eng. Aaron Mulinda
Managing Director - EWSC

THE PEOPLE CORNER

Celebrating Our People

At Eastern Water and Sanitation Company Limited, we recognise that the quality of our services is closely connected to the people who deliver them. The period from April to June 2026 provided several opportunities to recognise employee contributions, strengthen capacity and reinforce the importance of professionalism, dedication and continuous improvement across the Company.

Recognising Outstanding Performance

On 1 May 2026, EWSC joined the nation in commemorating Labour Day under the theme, “Securing Zambia’s Future of Work: Protecting Jobs, Skills and Pensions for Decent Work for All.” As part of the celebrations, the Company recognised 44 employees across its operational areas in Eastern Province for outstanding performance and dedication to duty.

The recognition was an important reminder that behind every successful service intervention, every customer assisted and every operational achievement are employees who give their time, skills and commitment to the work. By celebrating outstanding performance, EWSC continues to encourage a culture in which hard work, discipline, accountability and excellence are valued.

Mrs. Charity Phiri Bweupe

Human Resources and Administration Manager - EWSC

Building a High-Performance Culture

The recognition of the 44 employees also reinforces the Company's commitment to developing a high-performance culture. Employees perform at their best when their efforts are recognised and when they understand how their individual responsibilities contribute to the wider objectives of the organisation.

The message from Director Engineering, Eng. December Banda, during the Labour Day recognition was clear: dedication matters, and employees are encouraged to continue working hard while maintaining discipline. This is a responsibility shared across all levels of the organisation, from the field to the office and from frontline customer service to technical operations.

The importance of employee competence and commitment was further demonstrated when EWSC was recognised on 27 April 2026 as the Best Performing Utility in the Water Quality category at the launch of the 2025 National Water Supply and Sanitation Sector Report by the National Water Supply and Sanitation Council (NWASCO).

While the recognition is awarded to the Company, it represents the collective contribution of employees involved in water treatment, quality monitoring, plant operations, technical services and other functions that support the provision of safe and reliable water. It is a reflection of what can be achieved when people work with a shared commitment to quality.

Strengthening the Organisation

The Company's 2026 Annual General Meeting held on 8 May 2026 also provided an opportunity to reflect on EWSC's performance and strategic direction, including the need to strengthen institutional capacity and improve operational efficiency.

During the quarter, staff promotions also reflected the Company's approach to recognising professional growth and merit. Employees were promoted based on a combination of performance, experience and qualifications, providing opportunities for career progression while ensuring that advancement is linked to demonstrated competence and suitability for increased responsibility.

For Human Resources, institutional capacity is not only about systems and structures. It is also about ensuring that employees have the skills, support and working environment required to perform their responsibilities effectively. This calls for continued attention to staff development, performance, teamwork, accountability and professional growth.

Looking Ahead

As we move into the next quarter, Human Resources will continue to support efforts that place employees at the centre of organisational improvement. The recognition of 44 outstanding employees and the promotion of staff based on performance, experience and qualifications demonstrate that commitment, competence and good performance can create opportunities for growth within the Company.

The theme of this newsletter, "Listening, Responding, Improving," also speaks to our people. Listening to employees helps us understand their experiences and needs; responding enables us to address areas requiring attention; and improving allows us to build a stronger and more capable workforce.

Every employee has a role to play in this journey. Through professionalism, discipline, teamwork, continuous learning and commitment to our customers, we can continue to strengthen EWSC and contribute to sustainable water and sanitation service delivery across Eastern Province.

EWSC Pursues Innovative Solutions at ZAWAFE

EWSC AT ZAWAFE 2026: EWSC representatives join water sector leaders and partners to strengthen water security, climate resilience and sustainable service delivery in Zambia.

Eastern Water and Sanitation Company Limited (EWSC) participated in the 14th Zambia Water Forum and Exhibition (ZAWAFE), held at the Mulungushi International Conference Centre in Lusaka under the theme, “From Commitment to Action: Accelerating Integrated Resilience Solutions for Vision 2030 and the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs).”

EWSC was represented by Board Chairperson Mr Anderson Zulu and Director of Engineering Eng. December Banda. The forum provided an opportunity for the Company to engage with key water sector stakeholders, explore emerging technologies and exchange ideas on approaches that could strengthen water supply and sanitation services across Eastern Province.

The engagement also allowed EWSC to learn from other sector players, technology providers and development partners while exploring potential partnerships aimed at improving operational efficiency, water security and the reliability of services provided to customers.

Officially opening the forum, Vice President of the Republic of Zambia Mrs W.K. Mutale Nalumango called on stakeholders to move beyond commitments and focus on practical, measurable solutions that build resilience in communities, ecosystems and institutions. She noted that access to safe drinking water and sanitation remained a challenge despite progress made in the sector, requiring continued investment and action.

Permanent Secretary in the Ministry of Water Development and Sanitation, Eng. Romas Kamanga, also emphasised the need for collaboration, noting that the challenges facing the water and sanitation sector could not be addressed by individual institutions acting alone.

For EWSC, participation in ZAWAFE 2026 provided a platform to listen, learn and connect with stakeholders while identifying practical approaches that can contribute to stronger, more sustainable and customer focused water and sanitation services in Eastern Province.

Listening to the Needs of a Growing City...

The Chipata Urban Water Supply and Sanitation Project recorded 30% overall physical progress by the end of the second quarter of 2026, against 37% of the contractual period elapsed. Despite a schedule variance, the project remains within its original completion date of 7 October 2027, with continued monitoring and corrective action required to keep implementation on track.

Approximately 15,008 metres, equivalent to 15.01 kilometres, of pipelines had been installed, including works along Malawi Road in DMA 4 and Lusaka Road and other sections of DMA 1. These works form part of the wider effort to improve the hydraulic performance, reliability and coverage of Chipata's water supply network.

The project also recorded substantial completion of the contractor's campsite, with fencing, gate installation, toilets

Funded through a EUR 10 million KfW Development Bank grant, the project is being implemented by Eastern Water and Sanitation Company Limited (EWSC) to improve water availability and reliability in Chipata. Its scope includes the rehabilitation and extension of approximately 92 kilometres of the water distribution network, refurbishment of pressure reducing valves, installation of consumer and bulk meters, establishment of District Metered Areas and upgrading of Nabvutika Spring. The project is expected to benefit more than 13,982 households.

Responding Through Action

During the quarter, pipeline installation remained the main construction activity, with works continuing across several District Metered Areas.

Improving Through Corrective Action

The quarter was not without challenges. Construction was temporarily stopped from 19 to 29 June 2026, while delayed mobilisation, procurement constraints, outstanding technical submissions and third party interfaces also affected the pace of implementation. In response, the project report calls for increased productivity, an effective recovery programme, strengthened resources, expedited procurement and close coordination among EWSC, the Contractor and the Engineer.

This reflects the spirit of EWSC's theme, "Listening, Responding, Improving." The project is not only about laying new pipelines, but about identifying challenges, responding to them and continuously improving implementation to ensure that the intended benefits reach the people of Chipata.

Building Towards Better Service

With 30% of the physical works completed and 15.01 kilometres of pipeline already installed, the project has made tangible progress towards its objective of improving water supply in Chipata. Going forward, sustained productivity, close monitoring and timely corrective action will remain important in recovering lost time and ensuring completion within the contractual timeframe.
